SUPERCEDING INDICTMENT [FIRST]

COUNTS 1-9
[MAIL FRAUD]

The Grand Jury charges that:

I. THE SCHEME TO DEFRAUD

1. Beginning in or about June of 1997 and continuing to in or about February of 2000, within the District of Hawaii, and elsewhere, defendants MONTEZ SALAMASINA OTTLEY and HELEN A.

SCHLAPAK, and including John Wright, Shyuan Tan, Rande Scott Worcester and Paul Lazzaro, who are not charged in this Indictment, knowingly devised and intended to devise a scheme and artifice to defraud and to obtain money from others by means of false and fraudulent pretenses, representations and promises, as well as omissions of material facts, well knowing at the time that such pretenses, representations, promises and omissions would be and were false when made.

II. MEANS OF THE SCHEME TO DEFRAUD

2. By means of the foregoing false and fraudulent pretenses, representations and promises, as well as omissions of material facts, the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, induced and caused others to induce, approximately Five thousand (5,000) individuals to invest approximately Sixty Seven Million dollars($67,000,000) in their "Cayman Islands Investment Program," for the alleged purpose of earning a high rate of interest from Cayman Islands investments, whereas, defendants, and the uncharged schemers, well knew and intended, that the money be diverted to their own personal gain and use, to the detriment of the investors.

III. MISREPRESENTATIONS

3. It was part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, in describing the "Cayman Islands Investment Program," misrepresented to investors that their money would be invested in the Cayman Islands in order to earn a high rate of interest.

4. It was also part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, falsely represented to investors that Paul Lazzaro had a broker's number and license in the Cayman Islands and was the principal broker for the investment program.

5. It was also part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, misrepresented to investors that under the "Cayman Islands Investment Program" investors would receive a fee or "interest" for the use of their money.

6. It was also part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, misrepresented to investors that the fee or "interest" constituted interest earned from Cayman Islands investments.

7. It was also part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, falsely promised that investors would receive fees or "interest" of eight percent per week for the use of their money for thirteen (13) weeks.

8. It was also part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, deceived investors into believing that their investments were risk free because their money would be held for only 13 weeks and then the investors would have the choice to rollover the initial investment for another 13 weeks or receive the initial investment back, when in reality, the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, deposited investors' money directly into bank accounts for personal use and to promote the fraud by making lulling payments.

9. It was also part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, in order to induce investments, stated to investors that Paul Lazzaro had successfully brokered other Cayman Islands Investment Programs, when in fact Paul Lazzaro had never brokered a single Cayman Islands Investment Program.

10. It was also part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, in order to induce investments, represented to investors that the "Cayman Islands" investment portfolio had been in existence for over twenty (20) years.

11. It was also part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, in order to induce investments, represented to investors that the government of the Cayman Islands had no tax reporting agreement with the United States and therefore any investment earnings would be sheltered from tax.

12. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, in order to attract new investors, would and did encourage employees, investors and potential investors to recommend the investment opportunity to others, representing that they would earn three (3) percent of any new money invested as a "referral fee" or "gift."

IV. DIVERSION OF INVESTOR MONEY

13. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, rather than place investor money into a legitimate "Cayman Islands Investment Program," as had been represented, diverted and misappropriated investors' funds for the defendant's, and uncharged schemers, own personal benefit.

14. It was further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the monies received from investors was not invested or spent in a manner likely to produce income for the investors, but was used for the following purposes:

a. To maintain defendants' and uncharged schemers, lifestyle;

b. To create and maintain a false facade that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, were engaged in legitimate investment activity;

c. To pay money as a fee or "interest" to certain investors to give the illusion that investments had been made which produce these earnings, when in reality these monies were monies subsequent investors had invested;

V. OMISSIONS

15. It was a further part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, and others, did conceal and omit to state material facts which were necessary to prevent the representations the defendants were making from being misleading, including but not limited to the following:

a. That the investors' money was used primarily for the personal benefit of the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, and others and to make lulling payments to other investors;

b. That an individual investor's money that was available for withdrawal from the defendants' and the uncharged schemers, investment scheme was available only because the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, would take money invested by others and give it to an investor;

c. That the investor fee or "interest" could and was only paid when the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, used money invested by others;

d. That Paul Lazzaro and MONTEZ SALAMASINA OTTLEY never invested investor's money into any "Cayman Islands Investment Program."

e. That Paul Lazzaro was not an investment broker nor had he ever been licensed as a broker.

VI. LULLING ACTIVITIES

16. It was further a part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that for the purpose of lulling investors and potential investors who had been defrauded or were intended to be defrauded, into a false sense of security regarding their investment, the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, would give investors' money which the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, claimed were fee or "interest" payments; when in truth and in fact, as the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, well knew at the time, the fee or interest payment was taken from money invested by others.

17. It was further a part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that for the purpose of lulling investors and potential investors into a false sense of security regarding their investment, the defendants, and the uncharged schemers, told investors that their investment was insured.

18. It was further a part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that for the purpose of lulling investors into a false sense of security regarding their investment and deter detection of the scheme, letters and memorandums were mailed and faxed to investors to reassure investors that all was well, discouraging investors from investigating and uncovering the fraud, thereby delaying investors ultimate complaint to the authorities.

COUNT 18

[CONSPIRACY TO LAUNDER MONETARY INSTRUMENTS]

The Grand Jury further charges that:

I. The Conspiracy

22. From in or about June of 1997 and continuing to in or about October of 1998, in the District of Hawaii and elsewhere, the defendants MONTEZ SALAMASINA OTTLEY and HELEN A. SCHLAPAK, and including Paul Lazzaro, John Wright, Shyuan Tan, and Rande Scott Worcester, who are not charged in this Indictment, and others known and unknown to the Grand Jury, knowing that the property involved in the financial transactions represented the proceeds of some form of unlawful activity, unlawfully conspired, combined and agreed, together, to conduct and attempt to conduct financial transactions affecting interstate and foreign commerce, involving the movement of funds by wire or other means, which involved the proceeds of a specified unlawful activity, that is, mail fraud in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1341, and wire fraud in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1343, knowing that the transactions were designed in whole and in part to promote the carrying on of the above-described specified unlawful activity, to conceal and disguise the nature, source, ownership and control of the proceeds of the specified unlawful activity described above, and to avoid a transaction reporting requirement under federal law, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1956(a)(1)(A)(i), 1956(a)(1)(B)(i) and 1956(a)(1)(B)(ii).

II. WAYS AND MEANS OF THE CONSPIRACY

23. By means of the foregoing financial transactions the defendants, and the uncharged co-conspirators, caused investors' monies to be transferred to corporate accounts established to promote the scheme, to wit, Eureka Management and MSO, Inc., and to personal and escrow accounts, from which fee or "interest" payments (lulling payments) would be made, thereby lulling investors and potential investors into a false sense of security regarding their investment and encouraging new investment and reinvestment of currently invested funds.

24. By means of the foregoing financial transactions the defendants, and the uncharged co-conspirators, caused investors' monies to be transferred to corporate accounts, to wit, Eureka Management and MSO, Inc., from which fee or "interest" payments (lulling payments) would be made, thereby concealing and disguising the nature, source, ownership and control of the monies, giving the appearance of earnings on a legitimate investment. The defendants, and the uncharged co-conspirators, also caused investment monies to be transferred to their personal bank and escrow accounts, thereby concealing and disguising the nature, source, ownership and control of the monies to be used for lulling payments and to be diverted to their own personal gain and use.

25. To avoid the filing of a transaction report required under federal law, the defendants, and the uncharged co-conspirators, and others would cause cash deposits and withdrawals representing the proceeds from the "Cayman Islands Investment Program" to be structured by breaking up cash deposits and withdrawals in excess of $10,000 into amounts of less than $10,000. By breaking up their cash deposits and withdrawals in this fashion, the defendants and their co-conspirators sought to avoid the bank's filing of currency transaction reports that were required to be filed with the Internal Revenue Service on all currency transactions over $10,000.

III. Entities

26. At all relevant times,

a. American Savings Bank, Amerika Samoa Bank, Fort Shafter Federal Credit Union, Bank of Hawaii, City Bank, Oahu Educational Employees Federal Credit Union, Hawaii National Bank, and First Hawaiian Bank, were all domestic financial institutions operating in the District of Hawaii and were required by statute and regulation to file a report (Currency Transaction Report or "CTR") with the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") for each deposit, withdrawal, exchange of currency, or other payment or transfer, by, through, or to, such financial institution which involves the transaction in currency of more than $10,000 pursuant to Title 31, United States Code, Section 5313(a).

b. A Currency Transaction Report or "CTR" is a report that is filed with the Internal Revenue Service that details the participant(s) in a currency transaction at a financial institution that totals more than $10,000.

IV. Overt Acts

27. In furtherance of this conspiracy and to effect the objects thereof, in the District of Hawaii, the defendants and their co-conspirators performed overt acts, including but not limited to the following:

a. On March 30, 1998, MONTEZ SALAMASINA OTTLEY and Paul Lazzaro opened client trust account 48-047874, at First Hawaiian Bank, Honolulu, Hawaii, under the name MSO, Inc., dba Pacific Travel Service with both listed as authorized signatures.

b. On April 7, 1998, MONTEZ SALAMASINA OTTLEY and Paul Lazzaro opened checking account 271-000405 at Amerika Samoa Bank, Honolulu, Hawaii, on which MONTEZ SALAMASINA OTTLEY and Paul Lazzaro were listed as officers of MSO, Inc., both having authority to withdraw and transfer funds.

c. On May 27, 1998, HELEN A. SCHLAPAK, opened account 271101414 at Amerika Samoa Bank, Honolulu, Hawaii.

e. On June 10, 1998, MONTEZ SALAMASINA OTTLEY and Paul Lazzaro opened checking account number 45-055426 at American Savings Bank, Honolulu, Hawaii, on which both were listed as general manager of Eureka Management with authority to withdraw and transfer funds.

f. On August 20, 1998, HELEN SCHLAPAK opened checking account 05-966388 at American Savings Bank, Honolulu, Hawaii.

28. Those acts set forth below in Counts 19-53 are incorporated here by reference as overt acts in furtherance of and to effect the objects of the conspiracy.

From a precise date unknown to the Grand Jury, but by in or about June of 1997, and continuing thereafter through at least in or about February of 2000, in the District of Hawaii and elsewhere, the defendants MONTEZ SALAMASINA OTTLEY and HELEN A. SCHLAPAK did unlawfully, willfully, and knowingly conspire, combine, confederate, and agree together with Paul Lazzaro, who is not charged in this Indictment, and with other individuals, both known and unknown to the Grand Jury to defraud the United States for the purpose of impeding, impairing, obstructing, and defeating the lawful government functions of the Internal Revenue Service of the Treasury Department in the ascertainment, computation, assessment and collection of the revenue: to wit, income taxes.

To conceal the income realized from their investment program from the Internal Revenue Service, defendants MONTEZ OTTLEY and HELEN SCHLAPAK and others known and unknown to the United States Attorney, informed investors in the "Cayman Islands Investment Program" that the program was designed to avoid detection by the Internal Revenue Service and in order to avoid detection no social security numbers were needed and investors could use fictitious names.

b. To conceal the income realized from their investment program from the Internal Revenue Service, defendants MONTEZ OTTLEY and HELEN SCHLAPAK and others informed investors in
